

Seven Wonders of the World

When the team enters the room, tell them this is a verbal problem

Judge reads to Teams:

You will have 1 minute to think and 3 minutes to respond. You may ask questions during your think time: however, time continues. No other talking is allowed.

You will receive 1 point for each common response. Highly creative or humorous responses will receive 5 points. This will be the subjective opinion of the judges and the judge's decision is final.

Each of you has seven coins in front of you. You are to place a coin in the cup in the center of the table before responding.

Once time begins, it will not be stopped. If the judge asks you to repeat a response, or to clarify it, or to give a more appropriate response, it counts against your time. Speak loudly and clearly.

The Problem: Most have heard about the seven ancient wonders of the world. The list included seven, but the pyramids are one of the only actual ancient wonders still existing today. As time passes, new lists are formed to represent the modern times. Some of the newer seven wonders are the Golden Gate Bridge, the Panama Canal, the Empire State building, amongst others. Your problem is to come up with your own list of items for your very own seven wonders. They can be any person, place, or thing that you feel to be note worthy. Be creative. (Reread the problem)
